Matriarchist Party Manifesto

Patriarchy has failed! The time has come for Matriarchy.

Is it too late?

It is now 90 seconds to midnight!

Extract: The encouraging actions of our ruling class are extremely rare. It looks like the scientific community is out of warning strategies: the very survival of our civilization is at stake. And too little seems to be in place to avoid the worst. We, therefore, believe that it is legitimate to question many fundamental aspects of our way of life.

Living in Matriarchy

A credible, viable, and proven alternative

Extract : We do have before us a credible, viable, and proven alternative to our delusional patriarchal capitalist democracy. Matriarchies are based on cycles rather than on the growth pyramid of patriarchy. They are thus offering us the fundamental advantage of being able to last practically forever.

Aviocracy: voting with care, wisdom and awareness

Only our grandmothers will have the right to vote

Extract: We thus fully assume the implications of aviocracy on our societies' fundamental principle of equality between us all. We believe that our grandmothers are the fittest to make the best decisions for the well-being of all. However, in order to ensure a quick and efficient transition, our proposal only targets the right to vote in our current political system.

Large, strong and united family clans

Children grow up having several mothers. Mothers are surrounded, supported and freer

Extract: The most significant impact of a modern matriarchy and a revolutionary aviocracy enforcement will be the restoration of the family institution as the main link of our social fabric.

Matriage: Facing

3rd millennium challenges with matrilineal family clans

Improve the functioning of our society instead of spreading it

Extract: Unlike the nuclear model, the matrilineal family is rather broad and vertical, with a focus on the multi-generation maternal lineage living at the same place. This model is well suited to help us face the social, economic, and environmental challenges that our community will face in the coming decades.

ICT and the digital revolution are allies of matriarchy

Now is the time for local renewable energies, digital communications and sharing networks

Extract: The digital revolution shall rely on a reliable network of access points, catalyzing local energy generation, and manufacturing resources for the benefit of small, interconnected groups of people. By focusing on large, strong, and, united matrilineal family clans interaction, matriarchy will restore this community dynamic that promotes links between citizens.

Donarism: The Gift and Sharing Economy

The pleasure of offering others what we do best

Extract: The pooling of our resources and our energies, facilitated by digital communications, will carry out food, clothing, and proper housing for the whole population. A multitude of new networks will emerge, full of goods and services circulating free of charge. Above all, these new economic exchanges will be driven by the rewarding pleasure of self-emancipation through what we do best, and that we can offer to others.

The transition to modern matriarchy

Foreseeing the third millennium with serenity

Extract: Family is one of the most unifying institutions that humans have imagined. Today, for too many of us, it has become a source of conflict and division. On the contrary, our society is in great need of recovering the strength of a healthy family fabric, to enable it to face the enormous challenges ahead of us.

Where to establish the first matriarchist party ?

Two progressists nations of reasonable size

Extract: With 8,5 and 10,6 million, both Quebec and Czechia have populations of reasonably manageable size for new idea spreading.
Quebec has been a North American public services leader in many areas during the past decades. Czechia kept an extended social safety net from its previous communist era.
